

CHIN UP^(BAR)-Richard Sherman/Robert Sherman

4/4 1...2...1234

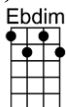

Chin up, chin up, everybody loves a happy face

Wear it, share it, it'll brighten up the darkest place

Twinkle, sparkle, let a little sunshine in

You'll be on the right side, looking at the bright side. Up with your chinny chin chin

(Spoken-with background instrumental verse):

Wilbur: Ahem...will the party who addressed me last night kindly come out of hiding?

Sheep: (Yawn) If you do have a friend, you're probably disturbing his rest!

Wilbur: Oh.

Chin up, chin up, put a little laughter in your eyes

Brave it, save it, even though you're feeling otherwise

Rise up, wise up, make a little smile be-gin

You'll be happy hearted, once you get it started. Up with your chinny chin chin!

(Spoken-with background instrumental verse):

Charlotte: Salutations!

Wilbur: Huh? Salu-what?

Charlotte: Salutations!

Wilbur: What are they, and where are you?

Charlotte: Salutations are greetings. It's my fancy way of saying hello. Look up here in the doorway.

p.2. Chin Up

Chin up, chin up, everybody loves a happy face

Wear it, share it, it'll brighten up the darkest place

Twinkle, sparkle, let a little sunshine in

You'll be on the right side, looking at the bright side. Up with your chinny chin chin

Chin down, you can't come frowning. Turn around, start in clowning

Think sad, your troubles double. Think glad, they burst like bubbles

Chin up, chin up, every little time your spirits wilt

Chin up, chin up, give your attitude an upward tilt

Twinkle, sparkle, make a little fun be-gin

You'll be on the right side, looking at the bright side. Up with your chinny chin, chin up!

CHIN UP-Richard Sherman/Robert Sherman
4/4 1...2...1234

A
Chin up, chin up, everybody loves a happy face
A
Wear it, share it, it'll brighten up the darkest place
D
Twinkle, sparkle, let a little sunshine in
Ebdim A F#7 B7 E7 A
You'll be on the right side, looking at the bright side. Up with your chinny chin chin

(Spoken-with background instrumental verse):
Wilbur: Ahem...will the party who addressed me last night kindly come out of hiding?
Sheep: (Yawn) If you do have a friend, you're probably disturbing his rest!
Wilbur: Oh.

A E7
Chin up, chin up, put a little laughter in your eyes
A
Brave it, save it, even though you're feeling otherwise
D
Rise up, wise up, make a little smile be-gin
Ebdim A F#7 B7 E7 A
You'll be happy hearted, once you get it started. Up with your chinny chin chin!

(Spoken-with background instrumental verse):
Charlotte: Salutations! Wilbur: Huh? Salu—what?
Charlotte: Salutations! Wilbur: What are they, and where are you?
Charlotte: Salutations are greetings. It's my fancy way of saying hello. Look up here in the doorway.

A E7
Chin up, chin up, everybody loves a happy face
A
Wear it, share it, it'll brighten up the darkest place
D
Twinkle, sparkle, let a little sunshine in
Ebdim A F#7 B7 E7 A
You'll be on the right side, looking at the bright side. Up with your chinny chin chin

D A
Chin down, you can't come frowning. Turn around, start in clowning
F#m7 B7 F#m7 B7 E7
Think sad, your troubles double. Think glad, they burst like bubbles

A E7
Chin up, chin up, every little time your spirits wilt
A
Chin up, chin up, give your attitude an upward tilt
D
Twinkle, sparkle, make a little fun be-gin
Ebdim A F#7 B7 E7 A
You'll be on the right side, looking at the bright side. Up with your chinny chin, chin up!