

MORNING SUN - Jesse Colin Young

4/4 1...2...1234

Intro: | G | / | D | / | Em | G Gm | D | / |

When the mornin' sun has come, shine the darkness from my eyes
 Yeah, and I wake up in the treetops, darlin', oh, and I got you by my side
 There's a sweet smile on your face, and your hair is all un-done
 Yeah, and I feel that we are one, when the mornin' sun has come

When the mornin' sun has come, yeah, and I wake up with a smile
 Oh, and I walk out on the ridgetop, yeah, and I sit there for a while
 And I watch a red-tailed hawk, flying circles 'round the sun
 Yeah, and I feel that we are one, when the mornin' sun has come

Instrumental verse

When the mornin' sun has come, shine the darkness from my eyes
 Yeah, and I listen in the stillness, yeah, and I hear my little baby cry
 And I look into the face of a life that's just be-gun
 And I feel that we are one, when the mornin' sun has come
 Yeah, and I feel that we are one, yeah, when the mornin' sun has come
